Carl Demelio Survives 25 Foot Plunge at Greer's

Carl Demelio, of Birchwood Road, North Wilmington, a carpenter at the J.W. Greer Plant, on Eames Street, miraculously survived a 25 foot plunge through a roof skylight, to land on a concrete floor. This had happened at 10:15 a.m. Saturday morning.

The Wilmington police ambulance, driven by Officer George Shepard, with Officer John Imbimbo, was rushed to the Greer plant, and Demelio was taken to the Choate Memorial Hospital in Woburn, where he was placed in the care of Dr. Payne.

He was reported, next day, to be improving, although suffering with back injuries, and other injuries to his left elbow and mouth.

Mr. Demelio moved into his Birchwood Road home two years ago, coming from Malden. There are three children in the family, Richard, 9; Thomas, 6 and Lauren 2.

Mrs. Cady, who mails the bills, is now mailing out the bad news to all Wilmington Water Takers. In addition to the bills which should have been mailed three months ago, Mrs. Cady is enclosing the bills which are supposed to be mailed next week, thereby saving the Town of Wilmington over $50.00 in postage.

He was "test hopping" to the tune of 70 mph, near the Black Kat, when Officer George Shepard came along, and put a stop to things. The Judge was not impressed, and fined Massone $25.

It is explained that the form must be signed by the person who is taxed, which means that parents or relatives or friends of men serving overseas and in other parts, will have to get the abatement form from the Assessors, send it to the particular man involved, have him sign it, send it back, and then it can be filed with the Board of Assessors.

Hugh Eames, Chief of the Reading Fire Department, and a descendant of the Wilmington Eames family, was the speaker at the Rotary Dinner, last week. After paying his respects to the old Middlesex Canal, and expressing the hope that Wilmington would forever preserve that portion of the canal that goes through the Memorial Town Park, the Chief told of some of his experiences with fire sparks, in his 44 years in the Reading Fire Department. The most recent experience was on Ballardvale Street, in North Wilmington, two weeks ago, when so many spectators cars were in the way that fire apparatus was unable to maneuver, said the Chief.

TOWN MANAGER REVIEWS THE POPULATION TREND

An analysis of the population increases in the eighty-three cities and towns comprising the Metropolitan district of Boston shows that Wilmington's increase of 1950 over 1940 is 51.5%. This places the Town of Wilmington in fifth place in the eighty-three cities and towns. In addition, the figures show that the immigration of 1940 to 1950 is 1,783 people. Also the number of births over the number of deaths was only 611 for that ten year period, which shows Wilmington's 1950 population of 7,039 are by and large new families. This information was prepared by analysis of computations of the State Planning Board.

Dean C. Cushing, Town Manager.

WILMINGTON'S FINANCE COMMITTEE

Every town has a Finance Committee, a group of citizens who can hold no other office, and whose duty it is to consider every cent that the Town proposes to spend. Each and every article appearing in a Town Warrant must have been considered by this committee, before it comes to the voters. As such, and as guardians of the Tax Rate, most Finance Committees will be found to be "agin" many articles in a Warrant.

Wilmington's Finance Committee is perhaps average, or better than average. Each of the members is a man of integrity, and each of them can be trusted to speak up on his opinion, no matter how unpopular that opinion may be.

The Finance Committee does a good job. Just because they might be against the particular article that you want to see go through, at Town Meeting, you should not bear a grudge against these men. They have to consider the entire Warrant, and you may be interested in only one article. There is nothing personal in their acts.

To the Finance Committee, for its work in the past, this paper says "Thank You." Editorially, we may often be against you, on certain issues, but, as Town Officers, and as Citizens, we are for you.

THE CHIEF GOT TOO PERSONAL

At the adjourned Town Meeting, the Chief of Police made a few remarks from the floor which were personal, and out of place. No person has any business making personal remarks in Town Meeting.

We hope that the Chief has since apologized to the two individuals.

THE WATER QUESTION IS SETTLED

The Town Meeting settled, definitely, the question of how much money was to be spent on water extensions.

Three years ago, the Town voted that the rate of extension was to be at $30,000 a year, and the Moderator appointed a committee to oversee this.

Two years ago, the Town voted to extend the life of this committee for three years.

This year there was a planned effort to cut the amount of the extensions to $20,000 a year. The plea was made that "This is the Year for Planning!"

When the people were asked to vote for the $20,000 amendment, the silence was deafening. Not one voter spoke up for the $20,000 amendment. When, on the other hand, the voters were asked to vote for the $30,000 mentioned in the article, the vote was unanimously in favor. Not one person voted against the article.

This means that the plans are all made. Wilmington is going to spend $30,000 on water extensions this year and it plans to spend $30,000 on water extensions next year. It is as simple as that.

All that remains to be done is to put in those extensions, as per the vote of the town.

THE END OF A MAPLE TREE

A few citizens paused to watch, recently, while a tree was cut down, an old swamp maple, beside the VFW Hall. It was an interesting operation. The men who took it down were professionals. They had cut many trees. They had the latest tools, and the truck in which they came was equipped with a power winch, which pulled out the stump, so that the only evidence of that tree, today, is a hole in the ground.

The trunk was, 30 inches in diameter. There was no other method of estimating its age, because the heart was rotted away, but bystanders guessed 125 to 150 years as the age of that tree.

That tree was standing there, perhaps, when the Old

Middlesex Canal was pushed through, one hundred yards away. It was then, of course, an inconsequential shrub. The canal boats came, and went. The first steam towboat to operate in the United States chugged up the canal to the Merrimack. The tree was still not worthy of notice.

Another group of men, this time laying granite sleepers, and iron rails passed close to the tree, and soon the Boston & Lowell Railroad engines were smoking up the farmers countryside. Up in Andover, a group of men began to speculate on the future of the railroad, and they formed a corporation, the Wilmington and Andover Railroad. The tracks were soon laid, within 15 feet of the maple tree, by this time grown to fair size.

Soon there was a railroad depot, at the junction of the Boston and Lowell and the Wilmington and Andover Railroads. There was some speculation in real estate, but the boom soon subsided, subsided because the Wilmington and Andover Railroad had become the Boston and Maine, and a new track had been pushed through North Wilmington, one that eliminated any possibility of Wilmington becoming a railroad junction town.

The tree still continued to grow. One day, in 1851, there was a race on the railroad, between a speedy horse, drawing a car, and a locomotive. A picture of that race was drawn, a picture still exists, showing the depot, and some trees in the background. Possibly included in these trees is our old Maple.

Then one day, the depot was taken away, to be later located on Church Street, across from the present site of the Masonic Hall. The tree was still there, and was later, when the town's physician, Dr. Daniel Buzzell built himself a fine home, some 100 feet away. The kindly doctor probably paid little attention to that tree, as he sat on his porch and surveyed the evening sunset.

It is probable that no one ever paid any attention to that tree, until one evening, about three years ago, when a young fellow, named Freddy Fish parked his car beneath it one evening. He will never forget that night, because a limb of that maple broke loose, and smashed the top of Fred's car. Fred, today, is a Captain in the Army, stationed in Germany.

So the old tree had to come down. It was a menace to traffic, standing there by the side of a modern highway.

Now there is nothing but a big hole, and that will soon be filled in.

"NOBODY ESCAPES TAXES"

In less than 40 years since the beginning of the individual income tax, the number of people in Massachusetts sending in Federal income tax returns has jumped from 19,314 to 1,938,984, it was disclosed by the Taxpayers Federation.

"This is just one more indication that nobody escapes taxes," Norman MacDonald, Federation executive director, declared. "The few families not his by the individual income tax are rapped just as hard or harder by other taxes, many of them hidden. Even the corporate income tax is passed on to some extent to the consumer because that's what the corporations do to stay in business."

"Citizens of the Commonwealth must pay $2,864,000,000 as our share of the federal tax burden in fiscal 1953."

Saying it is "no wonder" that taxpayers across the country are complaining bitterly about the oppressive burden of taxation, MacDonald pointed out that since the first income tax law was passed in 1913, the minimum rate of the individual income tax has jumped from 1 to 22.2 percent, while the maximum rate has gone from 7 percent to 92 percent.

In the same period, he said, the individual exemption has shrunk to about one-tenth of what it was: from $3,000 at 1913 values to $600 at 1952 values. The number of individuals in the United States subject to income taxes has risen from less than 400,000 to 55 million.

"In the next fiscal year, the federal government will take from the pockets of its citizens the staggering sum of $71 billion," MacDonald said. "Between the present and next fiscal years, there will be an average tax boost at the rate of $49 for every man, woman and child in the country. On a per capita basis, the federal government will soon be collecting $472 for every person in the nation."

Even with this heavy burden, he continued, the federal government expects a deficit of $8 billion this year and $14.5 billion in fiscal 1953. "This means that the government is going in the red to the extent of $93 for every person in the country," he said.

"Let's not kid ourselves," MacDonald asserted. "There is no magic way to eliminate the tax burden that is driving us into the ground. The only way to cut taxes is to cut spending. That's why the Taxpayers Federation and 35 other state taxpayer groups are demanding that Congress slash the proposed budget for fiscal 1953. The very least we can do is balance the budget with no tax increase to keep the projected deficit from bringing more inflationary price rises."

MacDonald recommended severe reductions or elimination of all peacetime spending programs not necessary for defense. He pointed out also that Congressional committees recently have turned up countless examples of military waste and extravagance and he emphasized that "military and foreign-aid spending should not be considered sacred when it comes to budget cutting."

THE ROTARY PARK PLAN IS ON EXHIBIT

As every good citizen of Wilmington knows, the Wilmington Rotary Club is making a playground out of the old Hiller Cranberry Bog. The Rotarians have been working very hard, for the last year, and there have been many other persons who have worked too, Women's Club, High School Children and private citizens who are interested in doing good.

This is to report that a plan of the Rotary Park, as it will be when finished, is now on exhibit in the High School, and a very interesting plan it is, too. Just to show how every one cooperates, the original plan was by Alden N. Eames, of Shawshaven Avenue, the topographical levels were by E. Hayward Bliss, of Glen Road, and the Engineering work was by a Boston firm, who specialize in such things.

As laid out, the park will have two levels. There will be a ball field, over near Middlesex Avenue, with home plate being in the corner near the "Cranberry House," and there will be a soft ball diamond, between the Cranberry House and the Masonic Hall. Both of these diamonds will be at an elevation of 92.5 feet above sea-level, and the outline of this particular level will be roughly in the shape of a bean, or perhaps it may be compared to a wooden shoe. Provisions are made for flooding the two baseball diamonds, in winter time.

In the corner opposite the Walker School, the ground will be 1.5 feet higher, or 94 feet above sea-level. This will be the nursery corner, with a small wading pool, for very young tots, and sand boxes, and benches for mothers to sit on. We haven't measured the exact size, but we believe that there is more than one acre in this plot, which we think will be set off with green lawns, and should be quite beautiful.

Around the edges of the Playground, in the sketch, there are planted some nice green shrubs. The whole thing strikes the on-lookers as being a vast improvement, and there is an added note, for those persons who like to perform mental gymnastics. The front step, of the Highway Department building, is assumed to be just 100 feet above sea-level.

The Rotarians are offering a prize, to the High School Student who, in 500 words can best describe the benefits that the town will derive from the playground. The prize is $10, or, shall we say, two cents a word. The winning sketch is going to be printed, and sent to every family in Wilmington.

The Rotarians have been working hard, and are looking forward to the day that they can give this playground to the children of Wilmington.

Every Wilmingtonian should visit the High School and see that plan for himself.

ESTIMATESFISH AND GAME BUDGET
SLASHED AGAIN

With a slash of some $122,000 from the 1953 budget request of the Division of Fisheries and Game, sportsmen of Massachusetts stand to lose much of the advancement that has been made in past years.

This cut will result in seriously hampering all programs of the Division as set up by the Fisheries and Game Board for the coming year.

How this cut was decided upon escapes reason when you realize that it results in no saving whatsoever to the taxpayers of Massachusetts.

A peculiar thing about these recommended cuts is that they take away any possibility of the Division's making use of increased revenue from the recent license price increases which sportsmen supported.

The entire operating expense of the Division of Fisheries and Game is borne by the Inland Fisheries and Game Fund. This fund is monies received from the sale of fishing, hunting and trapping licenses and represents the total revenue of the Division. No money from general taxation is spent by the Division. Thus, no saving at all is made to the taxpayer with these cuts, and the sportsmen's money which has already been or will be contributed in the form of license fees is wasted or lies idle.

As a result of the sale of about 326,000 licenses last year and with an existing balance in the fund, the Division feels that ample monies exist to meet their 1953 budget requests. In fact, the Fisheries and Game Board and Division personnel watch this fund very closely, never allowing the reserves to fall below $200,000.

Budget recommendations from the Governor's office early this year have permitted continuance of most of the Division's programs, with the exception of Information-Education.

These new cuts will result in seriously curtailing all programs of the Division. All the progress that has been made in modernizing and improving existing facilities will be lost as sufficient funds for normal yearly maintenance were not allowed.

Some 100,000 trout, expected production of the Podick Springs hatchery now under construction, will be lost, since no funds were allowed for personnel and equipment to staff this installation.

Pond management work will suffer at least a 13-week stoppage and proper care of existing equipment will be impossible under the insufficient funds allowed.

Information and education work will be completely shut down as it is impossible to conduct this all-important feature on the penny-pinching basis afforded by legislative recommendations.

Much valuable equipment and many vehicles will have to stand out in the rain as a result of the cutting of small garage rental funds requested.

Many necessary expenditures for essential studies that point the way towards wise management of our wildlife resources have been wiped out of the budget completely.

It was planned to complete the great pond survey this year. Under the funds recommended, it will be necessary to carry this work for another year and publication of the findings will be indefinitely delayed.

The West Meadows development project in West Bridgewater is out the window, with no funds recommended for construction of the dam. This project for the benefit of waterfowl and furbearers is not possible this year.

An evidence of how little the legislatures know about fish and game matters is the fact that they made serious inroads into the monies requested under the Pittman-Robertson act. Pittman-Robertson funds are federal excise taxes from the sale of firearms and ammunition. Seventy-five percent of the Pittman-Robertson appropriation requested by the Division is repaid each year by these funds. In other words, we have to ask for the full amount, but our total cost is only 25% of the amount expended. Cuts in the Pittman-Robertson program are a very serious loss to sportsmen.

The 1953 budget of the Division of Fisheries and Game as presented in House Bill 2150 is inadequate in the extreme. The Division is forced to bring the matter to the attention of every sportsman in the state. If the sportsmen want to get anything from their investment in the Division, now is the time to go on record with Senators and Representatives and ask for complete reinstatement of all fisheries and game budget requests.

THE PLANS OF EISENHOWER

Will Eisenhower return to campaign in his own behalf? This question, not President Truman's plans, is the hottest political speculation in Washington at the present time.

Senator Lodge, whose political future hinges on Ike's decision, no doubt has something encouraging in the back of his mind. Otherwise it is doubtful if he will hang on to a will-o'-the-wisp. He is too canny and too astute to go down to oblivion on the cocktains of an attractive but coy candidate. He would like to try for the Presidency himself but he knows that only by a miracle will he hold his Massachusetts seat in the Senate. Thus there is some feeling that he may have a quiet and very sure tip that Eisenhower will somehow find an excuse in April to come home, take off his suit and ride a boom into the nomination.

On the other side of the ledger there are those close to Eisenhower who have given up all hope that he will return.

First of all he has been given full confidential reports of activity, unauthorized of course, by elements in the Taft crowd to smear him, giving him a taste of things to come.

Secondly, he has a bright eye on Europe and feels that his departure might do irreparable harm to NATO in a moral sense, if not physical.

The opinion as of March 1 hereabouts is therefore a 90-1 shot that he will not return.

Washington (IES) - The story of Whittaker Chambers shows that most of the communist apparatus to which Alger Hiss belonged were composed of lawyers. He mentions in this issue of the Saturday Evening Post that another such apparatus may presently be "sleeping" in Washington to serve Russia when she needs it.

New York (IES) - "Washington Confidential" has finally gone off the best-seller list. Washingtonians say it should have been classified as fiction.

Washington (IES) - Eisenhower would have Tom Dewey as Attorney General and Cabot Lodge as Secretary of State, their friends are saying. And Winthrop Aldrich as Secretary of the Treasury, others add.

Washington (IES) - Ellis Arnall, new price control boss and candidate for a cabinet job, seems to be headed for a lucky break. Prices are sagging anyway, a slump is here, a Korean peace will accelerate the downward trend.

New York (IES) - Radio isn't falling in value as fast as expected. Some stability is being reached in the balance between radio and television. Experts say radio will level off as the best medium to reach housewives and motorists.

Washington (IES) - One of the big questions lurking in the minds of the Army brass is whether to turn over all U.N. prisoners of war to the Reds, whether they wish to return or not. If this will prevent return of the Americans and Allied prisoners, the disposition here is to turn over all Reds and former Reds back to their communist masters. The Army would rather have our men back than worry about the fate of oriental soldiers who fight on the side of the highest bidder.

COMICS IN SCHOOL

CHICAGO — Pigtails and fairy stories make a delightful combination at Holy Name Cathedral School where youngsters read the comic book "Uncle Charlie's Fables" as an experiment in elementary education. Little Mary Joyce Heaney heartily approves of the idea of improving her reading ability with stories of beautiful princesses. Under the direction of Sister Mary Victorie, the youngsters read the books, which are written in perfect grammar and feature fine art work, during class-time. She has found the comic book speeds reading, improves art work and stimulates children's interest in reading.

Trigger Gets An Easter Bonnet

Giving a final deft touch to Trigger's Spring millinery, Roy Rogers tops his faithful steed with a bonnet to end all Easter bonnets as Dale Evans watches. Trigger's distinctive whinny is a familiar sound to small fry fans who listen in on "The Roy Rogers Show" over NBC Friday (8:00 p.m., EST). The trio also appear on a televised show Sunday over NBC.

Blonde Beauty on Skelton Show

Lovely Lucille Knoch, who appears on NBC-TV's "Red Skelton Show," usually acts as the pretty foil to Red's comedy antics—and is expected to parry his comic dialogue and generally to just "look beautiful," but she also could dance at a moment's notice, and also do a good job of straight acting. All this—and glamour, too!

Washington (IES) - The great and growing mystery of this Presidential election year is which way Douglas MacArthur will jump. From many indications throughout the country, the General has a profound political attraction for many people and his weight in the nomination and election can be considerable. Students of the situation say that MacArthur can get the Republican nomination for Taft against Eisenhower and can help Taft considerably against the Democrats.

AN HISTORIC DECISION

When cooler heads prevail it will be seen that one of the most important governmental decisions in recent times was made by the sincere and uncomplicated Sam Rayburn, Speaker of the House of Representatives.

He told a section of the House Committee on the Un-American Activities, opening a public hearing on communism in Detroit, that they couldn't put it on the air, audibly or visibly or both. And no movies.

Naturally the Republicans, trying to make hay, declared that the Michigan Congressman, Mr. Potter, who was to preside, was being deprived of the publicity due him in his home State for all the work he has put in on the committee.

The opinion did not come from Mr. Potter but from the professional Republican pamphleteers who now swarm the Capitol. For the record, Potter is regarded as an outstanding Congressman, and perhaps doesn't need a radio show.

Sam Rayburn is the type of man in whom integrity shines as a light, and those who know his strong mind and his great heart knew all along that he likes Congressmen for their legislative works and not as actors.

Mr. Rayburn acted for the protection of the individual while others talked about it. This is precisely what makes history. When one knows Rayburn the case becomes clear. The Committee on Un-American Activities in recent months has become one of the most experienced and diligent in unearthing the shocking story of communism and also protecting the individual.

Under John S. Wood of Georgia, the committee has gotten away from this hippodrome and the smears. Thus the Rayburn decision was not directed at this committee or its personnel.

As one interviews Congressmen on the subject, opinions are almost unanimous that the public hearing has violated the rights of the individual, regardless of his venality, and as such cannot be countenanced by Americans.

To Rayburn, the case apparently has become clear-cut. Some decency had to be injected into the routine, and he did it.

JOHN R. MCINTOSH

John R. McIntosh, of 585 Main Street, died at his home, Wednesday, March 12, at the age of 80 years.

He was born in Wilmington, the son of the late Captain George W. and Mary Ann (Plummer) McIntosh and had been a lifelong resident of this community.

He was for many years a machinist, having been employed by the Boston & Albany Railroad, the Boston & Maine Railroad and for thirty years an employee of the Crosby Steam Gauge and Valve Co., Charlestown. Upon retirement, he engaged in a poultry business and lived for a few years on Federal Street, North Wilmington. Because of failing health, he sold his business and moved to his late home

He was a charter member of Friendship Lodge, A.F. & A.M. and received his fifty-year Veteran Medal from this fraternal organization in 1949.

His brother, Schamiel R. McIntosh, died just three weeks before him at the age of 86.

On Friday evening at 8 p.m., a Masonic memorial service was conducted by Stanley Webber, Master and officers of Friendship Lodge.

Funeral services were held at the Nichols Funeral Home, on Middlesex Avenue, on Saturday, March 15, at 3 p.m. Rev. Otis Maxfield officiated; Mrs. Guy Nichols was soloist. She sang, "In the Garden" and "The Old Rugged Cross." Delegates were present from Friendship Lodge. The bearers were Messrs. Charles B. MacDonald, Paul W. Dayton, William I. Coffin, Jr., and Arthur G. Kidder, officers from Friendship Lodge.

Burial took place in the family lot in Wildwood cemetery, where the committal service was read by Rev. Otis Maxfield.

He is survived by two brothers, Willie B. McIntosh of 632 Main Street and George W. McIntosh, West Medford; two nieces, Miss Marion McIntosh, West Medford and Mrs. Stanley Webber, 668 Main Street and a grandniece, Miss Julia A. Webber.

Knowledge is Power

1. IS A PUBLIC EDUCATION PROGRAM COMPLETE WITHOUT RELIGION?

2. DO YOU FEEL SORRY FOR YOURSELF?

3. WHO IS THE NATIONAL HERO OF THE PHILIPPINES?

(1.) "An education which does not admit even reference to religious experience is a failure, even of education in a quite narrow sense," writes Dorothy Thompson in the "Ladies Home Journal."

"What our country needs is a re-examination of our education. It has been secularized to the point where our public schools not only shut out all religious influences, but promote agnosticism and atheism. A concept of the separation of church and state has grown up which, if it goes on, will finally result in our withdrawal from Judaeo-Christian civilization altogether. . . . No one can understand Western culture at all who doesn't understand the religious assumptions on which its very laws are based."

(2.) Most people do at some time or other. Self-pity, according to "Everywoman's" magazine, is based on great expectations. Expectations, for instance, that after you are married you never will have troubles, and can get work done without ever having to work. Action is the big remedy for self-pity—action and a determination to get rid of that misery-making attitude.

(3.) Ramon Magsaysay, the Philippines secretary of defense, says "Time." Following his appointment in September, 1950, Magsaysay cleaned up the Philippine Army, whipped it into a fighting force of 40,000 men and began waging war on the communist-led Hukbalahap bandit army which has terrorized Filipinos since the war. His actions won wide acclaim among Filipinos, and he has been mentioned as a possible candidate for the presidency.

Knowledge is Power

1. ARE YOU A SUCKER FOR HIGH-POWERED ADVERTISING?

2. CAN PRE-HISTORIC EVENTS BE MEASURED ACCURATELY?

3. WHAT IS A BUFF?

(1.) If you are, try two simple devices for offsetting the ads you see and hear. Rudolf Flesch suggests them in his book, "The Art of Clear Thinking." He calls them "So-what?" and "Specify." You use the first question on irrelevant points in the ad which should be dismissed, the second for relevant points which are missing from the ad. Apply these to the next ad you see or hear. For instance — "The Countess of Carnarvon uses Angel Face Make-Up." (So what?).

(2.) Accurate measurements can be made with the aid of atomic science. Using a Geiger counter and an oscilloscope, scientists can measure the rate of disintegration of radiocarbon remaining in trees and other matter which was once organic. The oscilloscope has a screen very much like that of a small TV set. This disintegration produces green zig-zags on the oscilloscope screen. Radiocarbon disintegrates so rapidly that some 5,000 years after a plant or animal has died, the radiocarbon it once contained is half gone. This new atomic calendar, reports "Natural History Magazine," is reliable in establishing historical dates as far back as 15,000 years ago.

(3.) A buff is a person who rushes to the scene of a fire to watch the strategy of the firemen as they battle the blaze. Some famous buffs — Arthur Fiedler, Boston "Pops" Orchestra conductor; Winston Churchill, Al Smith, Fiorello La Guardia and George Washington. The "Nation's Business" reports that there are about 50,000 buffs in the U.S. now, and some of them are organized into buff clubs.

Your Family Can Help Save The World!

THE WORLD HAS torn up the rules, and the world simply is not getting away with it.

Current books, magazines and newspapers reflect a growing public consciousness that we are suffering from an epidemic abandonment of truth, honor, and duty; from a spreading practice of sacrificing principle to expediency; from the extensive problems of juvenile and parental delinquency, drunkenness, narcotic addiction, sexual perversion, crime and insanity.

And we recognize these things as symptoms. Symptoms of what? Of what we call the decline of morality? Or is that only a symptom itself and does the sickness lie deeper? Of the world's denial of the doctrine of good and evil? Or deeper yet?

WHATEVER THEY are symptoms of, the fact is that at home and abroad we are faced with a dozen sinister problems. But why all these at once? The answer is that they have not happened all at once. Sociologists, historians, and philosophers are agreed that all have been building up, not too subtly, for a long time. And they suspect that the fault is in man himself; that something must have happened in his heart.

This is a fearful suggestion, likely to tingle at the roots of the hair. Yet, since it implies that all these problems are in reality a single problem, it simplifies our dilemma if we will but accept it. Instead, we attack each problem separately and as if it bore no relation to any of the others. Desperately we use our pitiful brains but not our hearts and souls. And we are getting nowhere. For we have not yet got at the sickness, nor realized the remedy. For we are using education, statesmanship, science, and industry for all they are worth, but not religion for a fraction of what it could do for us. And plainly we are failing.

NO WONDER. We are not going by the rules. We are trying to do it all ourselves, without asking God to help us. Whose world, after all, is it? Whose children are we?

Already God has been offended too much. Still He will help any one of us who asks Him, and if enough of us ask Him, He will help the world.

It is out of the knowledge of God's goodness, power, and concern for us that there has arisen in America a movement for the propagation of family prayer. For the family is the strength of civilization, or the weakness.

THE FAMILY WAS meant to be the cradle of religion, and religion the soul of the family. In America, family prayer and scripture reading used to be general customs. They are no longer. They have not been for some years. The family is the weaker for it. There are broken homes in every street. The nation is the poorer.

But the family that prays together stays together. Restore to the family its religious soul and you enrich the country, you strengthen civilization. If enough families pray, they can save the world! — by Rev. Patrick Peyton.

HOBBY HELPS

PHILADELPHIA — Tools are among the most acceptable gifts a man or boy can receive, according to recent surveys by Henry Disston & Sons, Inc., 112-year-old manufacturer of saws and tools. All family men and boy hobbyists who own tools almost invariably want more and better ones.

The difficulty is that most women who buy gifts for their menfolk consider themselves authorities on neckties, but pale at the thought of choosing the right saw. Here the neighborhood hardware store comes into the picture. Its experts are ready to guide the feminine customer out of her bewilderment. Disston is preparing hardware dealers all over the country for an influx of women buyers before Father's Day, Christmas and birthdays.

When milady enters the store she will see counter cards reproducing national advertisements, gift folders attached to tools and a list of other desirable gifts made by Disston. She will see the famous Disston Saw, Tool and File Manual in a special gift envelope and free gift cards for general giving. She'll find the man behind the counter ready with the advice she needs.

With well-chosen tools of good quality, many women enjoy doing repair jobs themselves. Money saved by keeping the repair jobs in the family will soon mount up. When it comes to such calculations, every wife, even if she can't balance a checkbook, has a built-in slide rule in her head.

ANNUAL MISSIONARY LUNCHEON

The annual Missionary luncheon, always an important Spring event in the Ladies' Benevolent Society of the Congregational Church, will have especial significance this year. Coming as it does on the 2nd of April it will bring to a close a series of five Wednesday afternoon lectures on Latin America, given by Mrs. Fred H. Parks, of West Somerville, State President of the Baptist women, and widely known as a speaker on missionary subjects. Mrs. Parks has come each time from Woburn, where she has given a similar series to the Council of Church Women there.

Although many have been kept away from these meetings by bad weather and illness, those being able to attend have been delighted with Mrs. Parks. Her graciousness, coupled with her vast knowledge of her subject, make her lectures a joy to attend.

Someone remarked at the end of one of her talks, that she was the first lecturer this person had ever heard who could answer every question put to her about her subject.

Mrs. Parks will be the guest at the luncheon. While she will conclude her series on Latin America at this time, her speech will be of as great interest to those who have not heard her before, as to those who have attended the other meetings.

The luncheon will be served in the church vestry at 12:30, by the Missionary Committee, of which Mrs. Gaius Harmon is the chairman. Mrs. Parks will speak immediately after luncheon. Then will follow the dedication of the Second Mile Gift and the regular meeting of the LBS.

— What's "in the works" at G. E. —

Introducing

Hug!

Here at G. E. a Revolutionary Machine Squeezes
New and Better Products Out of Metal . . . .

Take a look at G. E.'s new, amazing Hydro-Form Machine (on the right). By high-pressure forming, it produces more and better metal products faster and easier than ever before. It's at G. E.'s River Works, is the first of its kind anywhere, and represents the most notable advance in metal forming in twenty-five years. The machine will be used to make better reflectors for street lights and flood lights.

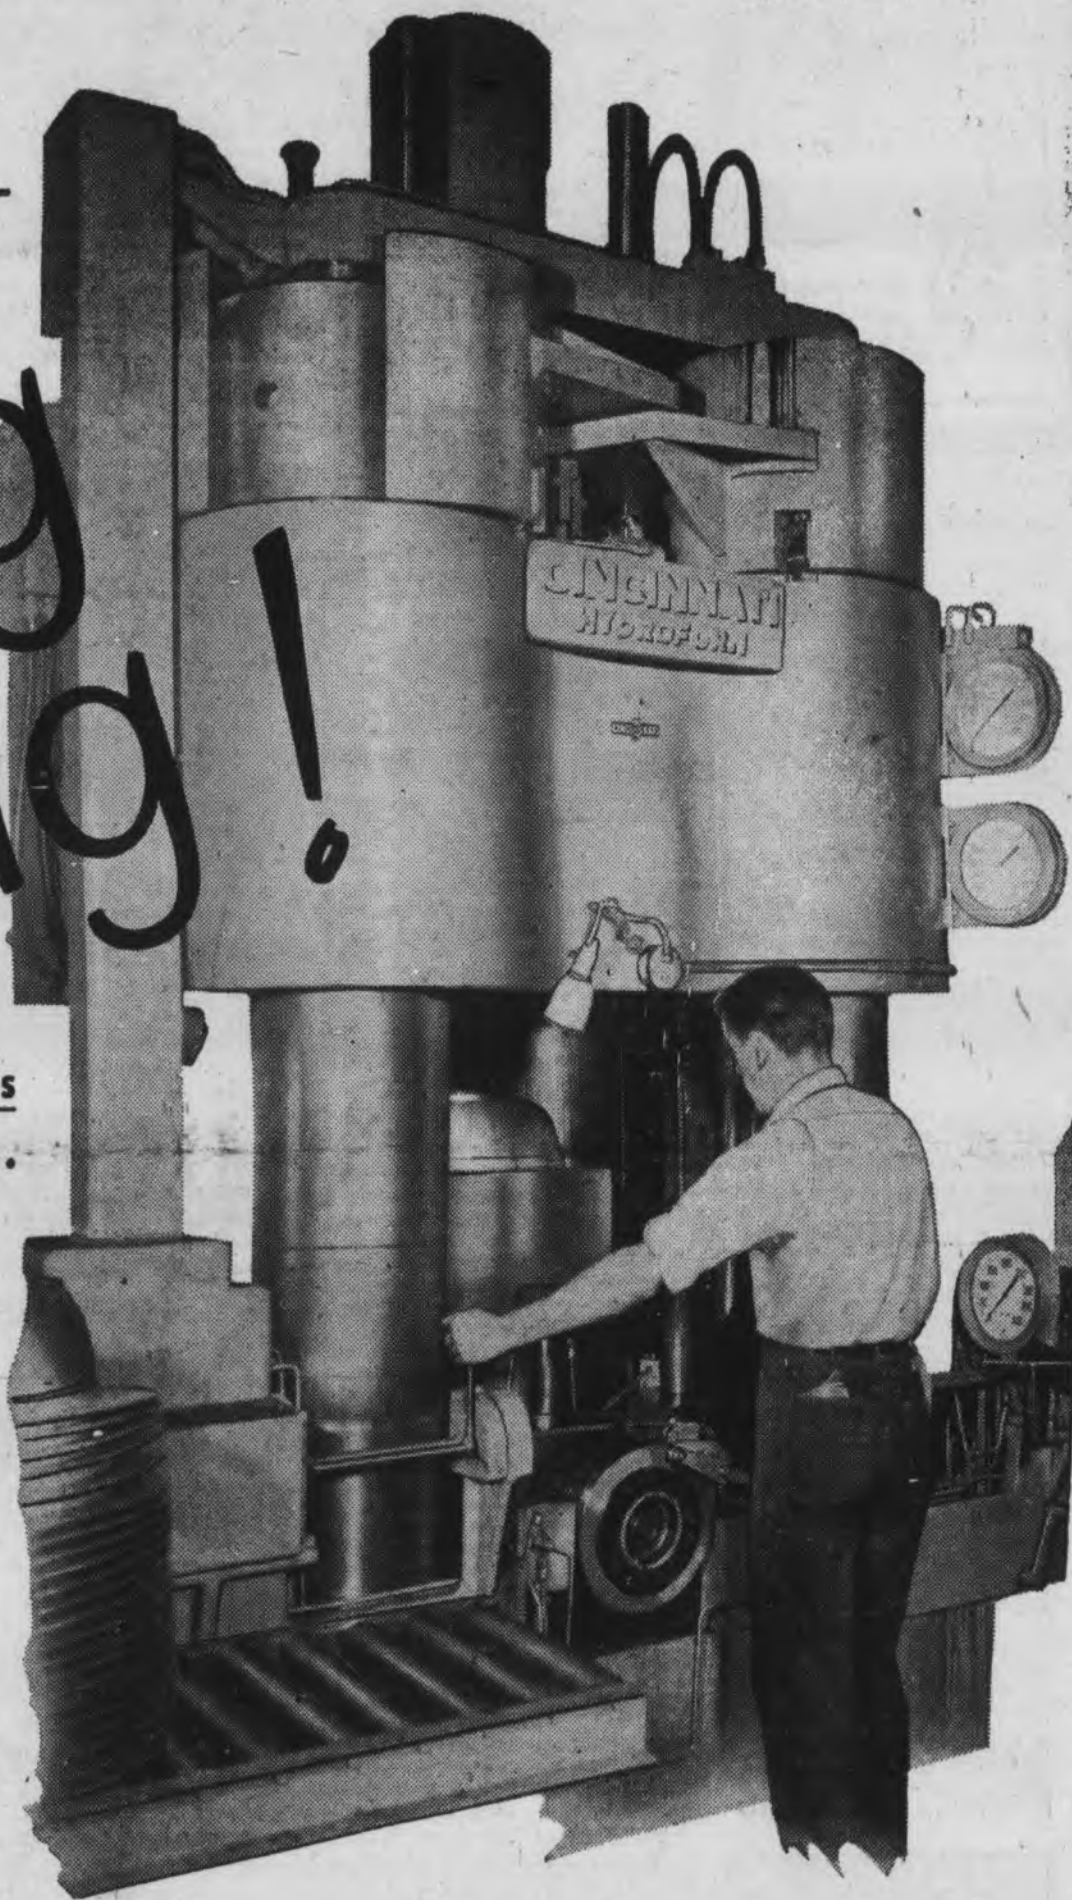

Before invention of this Hydro-Form Process, metal products made by spinning were limited to circular shapes and often involved tiring physical effort. It was necessary to make the modern non-circular shapes on a conventional draw-press, which required complex tooling and many operations on each part.

Now, with high-pressure forming, complex shapes of metal can be made in far fewer operations. What's more, the new process increases production three or four times over old-fashioned methods and produces some types of G-E reflectors in a matter of seconds.

Besides increasing production, Hydro-Forming makes better products, cuts costs, helps reduce the selling price of lights to the public. In turn, this will mean more orders, new factory units, new assembly lines in G-E plants, new jobs.

A machine like this costs a quarter of a million dollars besides thousands of dollars spent in developing it. But it's well worth it to "relight America" at lower cost for the taxpayers. In the future, towns and cities which never could afford them before will have better street lights.

The story of Hydro-Form is another great story of how G-E research and resources bring great advances to all industry while providing good jobs for 25,000 local people. It's another reason why "G.E." also stands for "Good Employment"!

THIS BIG SQUEEZE revolutionizes metal forming. In the lower part of this amazing new Hydro-Form machine is a ram inside a heavy cylinder. The upper half has an oil filled container sealed off by a special rubber wall or diaphragm. A flat aluminum disc placed on top of the cylinder is forced into the diaphragm which compresses the oil up to 15,000 pounds per square inch. In a matter of seconds the metal is converted into the desired shape. Here Joseph Noel of Lynn moves levers to lift dome of machine showing just-formed reflector.

HAS GOOD
GOVERNMENT DAY

Wilmington High School was probably unique, as far as could be learned, among the 300 towns in the Commonwealth of Massachusetts when it held a Good Government Day, in Villanova Hall, on March 14th.

All the regular appurtenances of the Town Government were observed, as the scholars selected their own Town Officers, had their own Town Warrant, and voted on the Warrant.

Ralph LePore of Parker Street was elected to represent the Town, as State Senator, and he spent the day in the State House as the guest of Senator George Evans, of Wakefield.

Other officials elected by the youthful electorate were Moderator: James Tighe, Town Clerk; Avis Balcom, Chairman of the Finance Committee; Ronald Ulrickson, Town Constable; Francis Reban Jr., and Chairman of the Board of Selectmen, Donald Fleming.

The Youthful Town proceeded to discuss the Warrant, (which is printed at the end of this article), and according to observers the discussion was in every way equal to that of our Older Citizens. Articles 3, 5, and 6 were defeated in the Town Meeting and Article 4 was reduced in cost to $1,000. No action was taken on Article 8, while on Article 10, the Finance Committee recommended a limit of $65,000, which recommendation was sustained by the youthful voters.

WARRANT FOR ANNUAL TOWN MEETING

To Francis Hoban Jr., Constable of the Town of Utopia:

Greetings:

In the name of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts and in the manner prescribed in the By-Laws of said Town, you are hereby directed to notify and warn the inhabitants of the Town of Utopia who are qualified to vote on elections and Town affairs therein, to assemble and meet in Town Meeting at Villanova Hall, Middlesex Ave.

On Friday, the 14th Day of March A. D. 1952 at 12:30 o'clock P.M. then and there to act on the following articles:

Article 1. To see how much money the Town will vote to raise by taxation, transferring from available funds, borrowing or otherwise, and appropriate for the purpose of building and equipping a new gymnasium for the High School, or do anything in relation thereto. On petition of Nancy Urlickson and others.

Article 2. To see how much money the Town will vote to raise by taxation, transferring from available funds, borrowing or otherwise and appropriate for the purpose of developing athletic fields on the High School grounds, or do anything in relation thereto. On petition of Barbara Gordon and others.

Article 3. To see if the Town will vote to raise and appropriate the sum of $5,000.00 for the extension of sidewalks, and that the Moderator appoint a Sidewalk Extension Committee, who shall have charge of such extensions. On petition of James McMenimon and others.

Article 5. To see if the Town will vote to raise and appropriate the sum of $1,500.00 for the purpose of erecting a new Honor Roll to include the names of those now serving the armed forces, or do anything in the relation thereto.

Article 5. To see if the Town will vote to raise and appropriate the sum of $68,000.00 for the purpose of constructing a new library, or do anything in relation thereto. On petition of Nancy Cornish and others.

Article 6. To see how much money the Town will vote to raise and appropriate to put the Common in shape as a park, or do anything in relation thereto. On petition of Dorothy Fidler and others.

Article 7. To see how much money the Town will vote to raise and appropriate for the purpose of installing parking meters in the business area or do anything in relation thereto. On petition of Francis Hoban and others.

Article 8. To see if the Town will vote to raise and appropriate the sum of $500,000.00 for the purpose of building a municipal recreation center, said sum to be realized by the sale of twenty year bonds. On petition of Alfred Bonacorsi and others.

Article 9. To see if the Town will vote to study the question of properly cleaning Silver Lake annually and that the Town Moderator appoint a committee to report on this question at the next annual Town Meeting. On petition of Priscilla Palmer and others.

Article 10. To see how much money the Town will vote to raise by taxation, transferring from available funds, borrowing or otherwise and appropriate for the construction of a new fire station or do anything in relation thereto. On petition of Thomas Pilcher and others.

Given under our hands and seal of said Town this 15th day of February A. D. One Thousand Nine Hundred and Fifty-two.

Donald Fleming, Chairman
Board of Selectmen

• TOWN NOTES •

WEATHER

Between Town Meetings and illness, your editor has not been able to do anything about recording the weather, for the past few weeks. So, in order to keep the record clear, we shall now give the rainfall for the month of March, to date, for the benefit of those persons who like to keep such records.

March 1, .02 inches, in the shape of snow, on the 4th, .072 inches, which included 2 inches of snow, and rain, on the 5th, .42 inches of rain and snow, on the 6th, .02 inches of rain and snow. The 10th had .30 inches of rain and the 11th .79 inches of rain. There was a trace of snow on the 13th and again on the 14th. On the 19th there was .32 inches of rain and snow, and on the 21st there was .01 inches of rain showers.

END OF WINTER

This years winter was very slow in disappearing, just as it was reluctant to arrive, in the first place. Until perhaps sometime in February, there were several warm spells, which cleared the grounds on several occasions. After that the winter really set in, and has been very slow about departing. There are still traces of snow in the woods.

BEGINNING OF SPRING

The first robins were reported by Ernest Eames, on Friday, on the lawn of the Congregational Church. The same day another report stated that there were seven robins down on the soldiers lot, in the cemetery. By Saturday everyone had seen robins.

DUCKS

A pair of ducks, (we presume they are teal) have been living on Nod Pond, behind the Pumping Station, since sometime in January. Now they have been joined by a pair of coots.

WANT A VERY NICE DOG?

Albert Otis, of Woodside Avenue, has two dogs, one of which attached itself to the Otis family this winter. It is a brown, non-descript dog, of uncertain ancestry, but very affectionate and friendly with children. At the same time he is an excellent watchdog. The Otis family is anxious to give it away, rather than send it to the dog-pound.

PUSSY WILLOWS ARE OUT

We have seen several ladies hovering near the edges of Wilmington swamps, in the last few days, picking Pussy Willows.

THE TOWN REPORT

We have been too busy to comment on the Town Report, for 1952. As everyone knows, the Town Manager wants to streamline the Town Reports, and this is his first effort in that direction. He has expressed the opinion that a good deal can be done in making a more comprehensive report.

This report is slightly smaller than those of previous years, and on the front cover a picture of the Congregational Church appears.

The former reports, by various department heads, have in some cases been altered, to become, instead, a story about the department, with an occasional drawing or picture.

There is no report on the 1951 Town Meeting.

We seem to feel that a lot of the statistics formerly published have been eliminated, while other materials have been presented. Whether or not this is for the good, we are unprepared to say.

DUTCH ELM DISEASE

We note, on Page 36 of the Town Report, that there was one case of the Dutch Elm Disease, in Wilmington, in 1951. The honor, dubious though it may be, goes to Burlington Avenue, and a ten inch tree. The tree department plans to make 100 tests in 1952, according to the report.

ILLNESS IN TOWN

There doesn't seem to be much letting up, of the illnesses in town. We heard one of Wilmington's merchants, who has a delivery route, express the opinion that there was an illness in 95 out of 97 homes he visited in the last few days.

EASTERN MASS. STREET RAILWAY

As this column is written, the chances appear to be very slim that the two week old strike of employees of the Eastern Mass. Street Railway will soon be settled. Your editor has been told that the company is not in any condition to increase its costs, and that it lost money in its operations last year. In fact, we have it on good authority that the reason the price for the Walters Snow Fighters was cut to $4,000, just before Town Meeting, was to insure their sale, and consequent ready cash to the company.

FIGHTS HIS WAY AROUND THE WORLD GETS SICK AT HOME

Johnny McAuliffe is a boy from Dorchester Avenue, who has been a fighting man from the word go. Johnny came home the other day, and thereby hangs a tale.

Johnny had just spent the last two years in Korea, running up and down that rugged peninsula in races with an unfriendly individual known as John Chinaman. Johnny had quite a time in running those races, and he picked up a lot of medals, Presidential Citations, and Purple Hearts, and things like that. Ask any of the boys, those medals just don't come naturally. That Purple Heart, for instance—Shrapnel, and it hit him while he was hugging the ground. Johnny thinks about it every time he sits down.

John Chinaman wasn't the first man that Johnny had played tag with, however. During the late unpleasantness, in Europe, Johnny and Hans lobbed grenades at each other, in Tunisia, Sicily, and all up and down Italy. That is where Johnny started his medal collecting habit, and he has sort of stuck to the idea ever since.

Anyway, Johnny came home the other day, after having been disgustingly well, in all this fighting, in all parts of the world. Johnny came home, and promptly went to bed, hors de combat from a little bug, with a 106 degree fever.

We hear that Johnny is up and about again, but he says that he isn't going to stay around Wilmington—it's too dangerous.

Might get sick again, and have to go to bed.

CLOCK WATCHER

One of our local matrons has solved, very neatly, a few of the every day problems that vex the ladies. Until recently, she always took Sonny with her, as she made the round of the butcher, the baker and the candle stick maker (it just happens that this matron shops in Andover.) Sonny, who is six, was occasionally quite a problem, as he tagged at her heels, going from store to store.

Now our matron has no problem. She sets Sonny in the car, with a fistfull of pennies, and lets him keep the parking meter from turning to "Violation." He is quite efficient, too.

Louie himself was on the phone, and told Ed that he was of the opinion that maybe Ed could get some. Louie didn't tell Ed that his new radio system was installed, but each of Louie's trucks and Louie's auto had a radio (the first such installation in Wilmington). Louie walked out to his car and called one of his trucks, using his car radio. The truck was on Burlington Avenue, and before Ed Twomey could say "Jack Robinson," the truck had rolled up Ed's driveway, and was pumping oil into the fuel tank.

Around the Studios

with Charlie Brooks

In the third annual Awards Poll, conducted among its 680,000 readers throughout Illinois, Michigan, Wisconsin and Indiana, TV Forecase Magazine conferred an award on CBS-TV's "Mama," "in recognition of outstanding achievements in the field of television (from) the viewers of Chicagoland."

Peggy Wood

The necessity for one actor to substitute for another often comes up in radio plays—but the problem is made particularly complicated when the substitution concerns a role which is definitely identified with a specific actor's voice.

Such a contretemps occurred the other day, when John Larkin, who portrays the title role of CBS's "Perry Mason," had to fly out to Chicago because of the death of a member of his family. Director Carl Eastman, who is also a veteran radio actor, solved his casting problem by playing John's role, in addition to directing the day's sequence. Fortunately, that particular episode revolved around a courtroom, and "Perry Mason's" voice was effectively masked in the general noise.

A standard practice on CBS's "Jack Smith-Dinah Shore-Ginny Simms Show," is to make a celebration of everyone's birthday—and last week, when the show's engineer, Harry Essman, had a birthday, he received the usual congratulations: huge birthday cake, and array of hilarious "gag" gifts. A visitor to the show, impressed by this, said to musical director Frank DeVol that it must be fun to be connected with a show like this. "When is your birthday?" he asked Frank.

"The tenth," Frank answered. "Oh, of this month?" queried the visitor. "Of every month from now on," Frank replied gently as he wandered off.

AIR-DENDA: Virginia Kaye, star of CBS's "Rosemary," recently received a sampler as a gift from a fan. It was worked in a cross-stitch pattern, had a motto: Straight out of "Hamlet," the motto read: "Rosemary, that's for remembrance." . . . Red Skelton, of NBC-TV's "Red Skelton Show," not only has a backlog of 350 vaudeville routines for transposition to video, but also has a lifelong practice of jotting down the fifteen funniest things he has encountered each day for comedy reference material.

During the week-end of March 22nd, the scouts took down the cabin at Camp Oman, and have moved the material over to Camp Forty Acres. We plan to build a new cabin there, as soon as we can get enough material.

We are calling on the people of the town for assistance. To be able to continue to improve Camp Forty Acres, which is for the Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts of Wilmington, we need lumber, stoves, cots, windows and other materials. We would also like to have the assistance of some carpenters. If you can help we will appreciate it. This is for the boys and girls of Wilmington.

Lisbon (IES) - One military man at the NATO meeting here said: "Joe Stalin will read that NATO will have 50 divisions and 4000 planes at the end of this year. He will make a note to have 100 Russian divisions and 8000 planes on the same date."

London (IES) - Not austerity but a permanent slow starvation diet is the rule for Britain, the public is beginning to realize. Great pressure for emigration is expected to materialize.
